

Celebrate "The Twelfth" In Wainwright

Bishop Burgett, M.A.D.D. Confirms At Wainwright, Gave Interesting Address

Rev. A. E. Burgett, M.A.D.D., Bishop of Edmonton, visited Wainwright on Sunday July 2. He was the celebrant at the Communion service at 8 a.m. At Battle Heights at 11:30 His Lordship preached to a full school house. This was Bishop Burgett's first visit in the Battle Heights area, he was entertained at lunch by Mr. and Mrs. R. Headon. At Irma at 3 p.m. some 70 people gathered to hear the Bishop. The Confirmation took place at St. Thomas at 7:30 when eleven candidates were presented by Rev. C. N. Bateman, R.D. The Bishop gave a very interesting address on Doctrine, Duty and Devotion. After the service His Lordship spoke a few words of encouragement to the Confirmees.

They Wore Trousers Nurses Must Resign

LONDON, July 4.—Two nurses at the royal infirmary at Leicester have been asked to resign because they followed the example of the German film star Marlene Dietrich and appeared on the streets in flannel trousers.

They were off duty but persisted after being warned such a practice was not in harmony with the dignity of their profession. The infirmary employs 225 nurses and apparently none of the others is in sympathy with the victims.

Tofield Tenders Fond Farewell to Mr., Mrs. Agnew

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Agnew and son Keith left for Wainwright on Thursday last week. Mr. Agnew has been appointed Imperial Oil agent there and took over his new duties immediately upon arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Agnew have been residents of Tofield for quite a number of years, our knowledge of them dating from 1918. Mrs. Agnew, formerly Miss Scott, was on the staff of the Alberta Government Telephone here and Mr. Agnew was connected for some years with the McLaughlin Hardware Company, later becoming Imperial Oil agent here.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Agnew were popular members of the social and sporting life of the town, and in this connection will be greatly missed. Prior to their leaving several social functions were held in their honor at which they received the good wishes of their many friends for continued happiness in their new home.

Walsh Successful In First Pro Boxing Engagement

There was plenty of action at the boxing show held in the Elks hall, Viking, Thursday evening July 6th, sponsored by the Elks hall company, and promoted by C. A. Dupre.

The dope in the main bout was completely upset, the majority of fans contending that Left Lukens, of Irma, had a good chance to defeat Johnnie Walsh, amateur heavyweight champion of Alberta in 1932. Walsh, making his pro debut in this bout, easily took the measure of the Irma farmer in the second round of a scheduled ten round go. Lukens was the aggressor in the first round, making the champ look very slow, but it was different in the second. The boy from Duvernay uncorked a couple of left and right hooks that connected with Lukens' chin, and the bout was over.

In the semi-final five rounder between Reid of Edmonton, and George Scott of Viking, the bout was stopped in the second round on account of Reid suffering a strained tendon in his right leg, and could not continue. Scott was the aggressor while the

Orange Celebration at Vermilion July 12th

Vermilion is again fortunate in that it has been chosen as the site for the Orangemen's celebration on Wednesday, July 12th. This is a joint undertaking by the Manville and Vermilion lodges.

Outstanding events of the day will include the grand Orange parade from their hall to the grounds at 11 a.m.; address by the Rev. A. E. Black of Edmonton; a large list of sports including baseball, football, softball, horse shoes and athletic events. An added attraction is the Orange walk in front of the grandstand. There is a dance at night and special features at the Columbia theatre.

Given fine weather this should prove one of the largest gatherings in the province. All inquiries and entries should be made to Fred Firth, Vermilion.

ST. THOMAS' W.A. HOLD MEETING AT MRS. LALLY'S

The W.A. held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. T. Lally on Wednesday evening last. Twelve members were present and six visitors including Miss Bacon and Mrs. Batchelor, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Steele all of St. Margaret's W.A. at Battle Heights; also Mrs. Currie was present. The results of the Booth was discussed and all seemed very pleased at the patronage which the W.A. had received and were well pleased at the cash balance. Mrs. Adams was presented with a cheque to carry on her preparations for the Fall Bazaar, and another cheque for $30.00 was paid on account of a loan. Mrs. E. Boyd and Mrs. A. Adams were appointed the home cooking convenors for this month. Mrs. W. Miller gave a report of her work as visiting convenor for the past three months. Mrs. A. Adams was appointed the new convenor for this work and she appointed as her committee Mrs. Lally, Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Boyd. A letter of thanks was voted to be sent to Mr. Moore and John Moore for their voluntary assistance on July 2nd. Mrs. Lally expressed her pleasure that the visitors were able to be present, and hoped that they would feel free to come at any time. Miss Bacon as president of the St. Margaret's W.A. suitably replied. There will be no further meetings of the W.A. until September.

Town Council Meets In Its Regular Session

The Council of the Town of Wainwright met in regular session at 8 o'clock p.m. on Tuesday, the 4th day of July, 1933.

The members of Council present at this meeting were Mayor Forster and Councillors Adams, Welch, McLeod, Billing, Courcier and Patterson.

The recorded proceedings of Council at its regular meeting of June 6, 1933 were read and, on motion, were adopted and confirmed as written.

Notice was received from the Old Age Pensions Department of the application of Mrs. Carrie E. Andrews for Old Age Pensions Department dealing generally with applications for pensions and explaining the purpose of a reference of applications to Council, and, on motion, the communication was filed.

Mr. H. B. Walker wrote requesting the use of the building, used as a dressing room in connection with the rink in winter, for purposes of coaching during the Bible conference to be held at Wainwright during the week July 9th to 16th, and on motion, his request was granted on the understanding that the building would be left in the condition existing at the time of permission given.

Toronto Engineer Writes Book to Remodel Canada

Ryerson Press to Bring Out "The New Canada" by Edwin Hugi

ECONOMIC UTOPIA

Next week Ryerson Press will bring out a small book intended by the author to stimulate big thinking. "The New Canada — At Last Something Definite," by Edwin E. Hugi.

No poet ever flamed into print more earnestly than this hydro structural engineer who months ago began to work out this problem of reconstructing his native land. He saw Canada as some great ship—badly designed. The book is his "plans and specifications for a new economic structure for Canada."

"While I belong to a C.C.F. club," he says in the preface, "the league of social reconstruction, the movement for a Christian social order, the Canadian commonwealth movement, the socialist party and would if I could afford it join any other organization for the betterment of mankind—this plan for a new economic structure for Canada is in no way connected with these organizations." But the C.C.F. expect to sell a number of Hugi's books—especially at the August conventions in Regina.

Hugi does not look like a radical, or a dreamer. If hydro contracts had not been so cut down he might never have written his book.

"I'm not an economist," he said. "Neither a technocrat. My book is only engineering common sense; a plan for rebuilding a nation—still young enough to belong to the future."

The paradox of plenty, few people and depression causes Hugi to think

Sad Accident Takes Place at Hardisty Lake

The first drowning accident for some time occurred on Sunday when Magnus Grov, a young Norwegian of 26 years was drowned in the creek north of Loughheed. The young man's clothing was found on the bank on Monday morning and in the afternoon the body was found stuck in the mud at the bottom of the creek.

Mr. Cron, of Hardisty, dived to the bottom, to bring up the body.

Mr. Grov was alone at the time but it is presumed he took a cramp and became fast in the mud.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, from the Norwegian church, north of Loughheed.

CLARKE—CURTIS

The marriage took place at St. Thomas' church, Wainwright, on Monday, July 3rd, 1933, of Stella Lucinda, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis of Hardisty, and Mr. George Vivian Tremayne Clark of Canora, Alberta, now principal of Loughheed school. Only the parents of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. C. N. Bateman, vicar of St. Thomas, Wainwright.

They were attended by the bride's parents and the groom's mother.

The many friends of the happy couple will wish them much happiness in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke will make their home at Loughheed.

TONDU—CUNNINGHAM

The marriage of Miss Mae Edythe daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cunningham of Bonnyville, Alberta, to Mr. Louis Tondou, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tondou, of Wainwright, Alberta, was celebrated quietly in Edmonton on Tuesday, the Rev. Robert Lytle performing the ceremony at the home. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kingham of 9703 72 Ave., Edmonton. The young couple motored to Calgary and Banff and will be at home in August at Wainwright.

Historical Pageant Opened Jasper Rodeo

JASPER.—With flags flying, a bright clear day and a large crowd from all parts as far east as Edmonton and as far west as Blue River the Jasper Park Rodeo and Turf Club's annual Rodeo opened at noon on July 1st.

The parade was formed at the baseball grounds, and at 12:45 the procession, made up of Indians in full regalia, a model of the first G.T.P. engine to travel over the newly laid tracks and headed by the Jasper Park forty piece brass band, passed through the town and on to the Cavell Road, arriving at the race track in time for the opening event, which commenced at 2:00 p.m. sharp, and continued without a hitch until the last event had been successfully contested.

Edwin L. Mills Passes Away Local Hospital

Death came suddenly to Edwin L. Mills Wednesday last, after a brief illness of a few days. Mr. Mills was born in Peterborough, Ont. and came here in 1906, and settled in Dolcy. He had not been feeling well for about a year and took worse last Saturday, when Dr. Alloworth was called. The doctor ordered him to the hospital immediately and he died on Wednesday, July 5th.

He leaves to mourn besides his wife, Amy, now Mrs. Stewart of Dolcy; three sons, John, Richard and Robert, all residing at home.

Mr. Mills was a good husband, a loving father and a splendid citizen. The pallbearers were Wilbert Success, Percy Gribbe, A. E. Nelson, R. Pearce, R. Deyell and C. Meyers.

Funeral arrangements were conducted by J. C. McLeod and Son.

Woman Clings to Husbands Body Hours After Death in Lake Storm

VANCOUVER, July 4.—Heroism in the face of almost certain death was shown by Mrs. Mary Marshall, only survivor of the ill-fated boat sailing party on Puntzi lake, 125 miles west of here, which claimed the lives of her husband Alex. Marshall and Edmund Hutton. It is believed that Mrs. Marshall, who is recovering from her terrible ordeal, will be decorated for her bravery.

When the boat upset in a heavy gale, she held her husband afloat for two hours before he died and continued to hold him long afterwards. It was only when she saw Mr. Hutton collapsing that she let her dead husband go.

She managed to grasp Hutton and

Potatoes Furnish "Sticklage" For Postage Stamps

But Canadian Farmers Don't Furnish Potatoes for Stickum

OTTAWA.—World postal officials who suggested raspberry and blueberry flavors for the "sticklage" on postage stamps will not have their gustatory longings fulfilled, but if they like to lick stamps as at present issued they may acquire a square meal; if they lick a lot of stamps.

The British American Bank Note Company at Ottawa, which prints a billion postage stamps a year for the Canadian post office, uses potato dextrine for stamp mucilage; a fine potato flour, finer than ordinary flour.

The flour is made up with water and boiled and put on the stamps with rollers. It is never touched by hands, and while post office regulations call for a rubber roller or some other artificial means of moistening the mucilage, the general public still sticks to licks.

The potatoes from which the flour is made are grown in Holland, a special kind, and the dextrine is made there and imported into Canada. Because it is potato flour the office boy having to stay late to mail a heavy day's mail doesn't need any supper money any more. It's in the stamp.

Many Visitors Are Expected Here To Spend Gala Day

Providing the weather is all that it should be, the Orange Celebration at Wainwright should be a splendid event. Irma and the surrounding districts have made special arrangements to gather all the members of the local lodges together and drive to Wainwright. One of the principal events will be the parade from the Masonic Hall, Main Street, to the Exhibition Grounds, headed by the Wainwright Town Band.

Mr. Ed. Ganderton, and H. F. Schmitt and G. Murray are in charge of the baseball tournament. Three substantial prizes of $75.00, $25.00 and $10.00 will be awarded the winners.

Saskatchewan Puts New Marriage Act in Force

Saskatchewan's new marriage act passed at the last session of the legislature came into force on Saturday, July 1st.

Males now seeking a marriage license will be required to show a health certificate signed by a duly qualified medical practitioner, based on the result of an examination not more than 10 days preceding the marriage.

Medical certificates may be obtained from any qualified physician. There are no set fees for such examination this being a matter as between the physician and the applicant.

The new legislation provides for the lapse of seven days from the date that formal application is made to the issuer of licenses before the license may be issued. Both parties to the proposed marriage must sign the application.

BATTLE HEIGHTS HOLD SUCCESSFUL EVENING

The Vestry of St. Margaret's parish Battle Heights, held a very successful Whist Drive and Dance on Friday evening last at the school house. Messrs. Holt and Batchelor acted as M.C.'s and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The prize winners were as follows: ladies first, Mrs. C. N. Bateman; ladies second, Mrs. R. Headon; ladies consolation Mrs. W. Miller. Gent's first, Mr. Leo LaPalme; gent's second, Mr. H. Daugard; gent's consolation, Mr. George Tindall. Members of the W.A. served a bountiful lunch. The Souders Orchestra supplied the music with the Melodion. The members of which was voluntary, also Mr. Holt assisted the Vestry extend their thanks to these gentlemen for their generosity.

MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. D. Matheson of Irma, is a patient at the hospital.

Mrs. H. Ordway is in the hospital for treatment.

John McMullen, of Edgerton, underwent an appendicectomy on Saturday.

I. Sharkey, B. Poon and P. Blomert of Hughenden had their tonsils removed on Saturday.

Miss Helen French and Mrs. B. Nordstrom are patients in the hospital.

M. Koll of Jarow underwent an operation last week.

L. Godale is a patient in the hospital suffering from a fractured foot.

O. Brouil underwent an appendicectomy on Friday.

Can't Wed on Land Go to Sea Wrong, Says Law - Will Try Again

RAMSGATE, Eng., July 4.—This is a tale of frustrated ingenuity but undaunted determination.

ARCHBISHOP O'LEARY, D.D. WILL CONFIRM MANY AT WAINWRIGHT NEXT SUNDAY

His Grace, the Archbishop of Edmonton, will pay a pastoral visit to Wainwright, Sunday next, arriving from Chauvin Saturday morning. The Archbishop will assist at the Sunday morning service at 10:30 a.m. after the Mass he will confer the Sacrament of Confirmation upon some fifty or sixty children for the town and district. His Grace will be the speaker at the 10:30 service.

A public banquet will be tendered the distinguished guest at the Wainwright Hotel Sunday evening at 5:30. His Grace, Archbishop O'Leary will give a public address and this will be followed by speeches from other prominent visitors.

Young Samuel Clark and his bride-to-be, Florence Brice, arrived at St. Lawrence's church to get married. They found through a technical oversight in publishing the marriage notice the rector was unable to perform the ceremony.

The bride was distracted, the bridegroom gloomy, but the best man was struck by a happy thought. Why not proceed to sea and be married by a captain.

So the eager pair, accompanied by parents and witnesses, left in a big motorboat and voyaged beyond the Goodwin lightship. There they have to and the skipper in prescribed form pronounced the couple man and wife.

After a two-day's honeymoon came a bombshell from the registrar-general's office. He called the ceremony entirely invalid. "This question of marriage at sea," it was explained, "crops up regularly. There is a persistent fallacy that such marriages are permissible.

'But the bridegroom is not worrying unduly. "If we hear anything more," he said, "we shall get married again, ashore."

NOTICE

The paper is going out one day ahead of schedule so as to assure circulation to announce the twelfth of July celebration at Wainwright.

The Editor.

Our own shrunken shanks may not be observed in the Orange parade on Wednesday next and we doubt if we will be missed. To write in favor of a principle is one thing—to walk in favor of it is another. But we do heartily commend the local Orange organization for the movement which the parade of Wednesday will emphasize. Nor do we think it should be confined to this organization solely. We may distinguish between loyalty to our organization and any outward display such as a parade, but naturally we connect the setting off of fireworks with the 24th of May. They seem inseparable. There is a ring of truth in the modern song: "I love a parade! We all do. It stimulates interest, it holds it, it imparts a principle indelibly on the minds of the spectators."

But more than this it shows that in "union there is strength." A rope cut up into small pieces is useless as a tow because it is not long enough to permit a real grip. A parade displays the idea that one man alone, walking in the centre of a street does not constitute a procession, that only when several or many are grouped together in a single cause—a group one dependent of the other—is there a processionary parade.

What is true of an organization is true of a nation. A nation to prosper must of necessity depend on other nations. There is no gleaning the wisdom of these words. No nation on the face of the earth is so self-contained that it can live and prosper in isolation—splendid or otherwise. Perhaps the United States comes as close to independence in this respect as any other, yet its President sees nothing but defeat and failure in any attempt to live to themselves.

With the advance of civilization our needs have become greater, and since we cannot return to the most primitive mode of life, we must consider our relations to those with whom we exchange the things that make life tolerable and pleasant.

Let us take a simple homely illustration of our general inter-dependence. Let any man consider for a moment a simple day's activities and he will be at least interested in discovering the number of contacts he makes with the outside world even to its remotest end. The food he eats, the clothes he wears, the car he rides in, the tools he uses; these and many other things remind him that his outlook cannot be narrow. He rises in the morning and, if he is a man of means, he steps upon a rug which introduces him to a simple worker in Persia or Turkey, or the floor covering may be less pretentious and he meets a carpet weaver in England or it may be in Canada. He dresses in cotton from Egypt or the Southern States, in woolen goods from Canada or Australia (via Lancashire or Scotland). He sits down at a table covered with linen from Ireland or Russia. He eats an orange from Jamaica, Florida or Palestine. His cup of tea envisages a Chinese coolie or a worker in the plantations in Ceylon. His coffee takes him to Brazil. He enters a car on which there is nickel from Sudbury, and rubber from the Belgian Congo or Borneo. He is warmed during the winter months with coal from Pennsylvania, Nova Scotia, Wales or Alberta, or oil from Venezuela. He reads the news of the world on a paper made from Canadian or Norwegian pulp.

If an organization is dependent upon its members, a nation dependent upon other nations, so also in a much greater manner must a town depend on its citizens, if it would prosper. Cooperation in every form of industry, in every local endeavor, is paramount. I fail to see why there should be one idle man in this town or district. Work, if it is not available at the time, should be made or found. Are our traders doing all in their power to talk up our town. What has happened to the Creamery idea. Surely if the farmers in the district were grouped together and given a serious talk they would provide themselves with the necessary stock and keep a dairy going.

Take, for instance, this office: Before the printing of an outside paper was brought to Wainwright the Star office employed only two local people and then only in part time. Now four or sometimes five are steadily employed and before the year is over three thousand five hundred dollars will have been paid in salaries. Just stop to think—thirty-five hundred dollars spent in this town to the local merchants. If all the job printing used in this town and district were printed here perhaps two more men would be put to work. We are doing our share. Are you? Cooperation must be our watchword.

The Committee on Public Works submitted the following reports, viz:

We now have the sewer system in good working order and the heavy rain of the past few days have been taken care of and no water has accumulated on the streets. The hydrants which needed repairing have been taken up and it has been found that the trouble was due to their freezing in the winter time. In order to avoid a repetition of this, we have had several loads of gravel placed around the pipes before filling in the clay.

Several loads of gravel and cinders have been hauled to repair the streets and grading has been done after the rains. Also, we have had the curbs on Main Street cleaned.

In preparation for the first of July all the large rocks were cleaned off the street from the school to the Fair Grounds. The race track and the baseball diamond have been graded, and considerable work was done on second avenue between King and Dominion streets.

We plan to keep the town truck employed hauling gravel, whenever it is available. We have spent several days destroying weeds and feel that we have this work well in hand. However, we plan to watch the situation carefully and expect that more work will have to be done.

On motion the report of the Committee on Public Works was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

The Committee on Fire, Light and Utilities, submitted the following report, viz:

At our last meeting we reported three of the hydrants as out of commission and a leak in the main in front of the telephone office.

The hydrants are all open and in good working condition now. Frost was ascertained as the cause of the blockage and we have attempted to protect the vulnerable ties so that frost will not penetrate.

The break has not been mended yet but the excavation work is in the hands of the public works department.

The fire brigade responded to a call for help at a fire at Wheaton's. A second call was responded to when Mr. Schilt's car caught fire.

The light department has nothing to report to this meeting.

On motion, the report of the Committee on Fire, Light and Utilities was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

The following report was then received from the Health Committee and on motion, the report was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

We have made an extensive inspection of the town and find the lanes in very good condition. Some few complaints are coming at times to this committee but are rectified as soon as made. The scavenger is carrying on his work in a very satisfactory manner and we believe is giving general satisfaction to our citizens. The general outlook of our town as far as health is concerned is good and every effort is being made to maintain conditions conducive to the health of our residents.

The Committee on Parks and Cemetery submitted the following report, and on motion, the report was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

Since the last report of this Committee, submitted at the last regular meeting, in accordance with our former report, the Committee appointed by the Council of the Municipal District of Gilt Edge conferred with your Committee relative to improvements to be made in your cemetery. We found this Committee not only willing but anxious to co-operate with the Town or Wainwright in the improvement of your cemetery. They promised labor to the extent of some thirty days for one man and also promised certain work with horses. Councillor Beasley of the Council of the Municipal District also kindly volunteered to superintend the work to be done by the men from the rural municipality. With his experience in matters of this kind, this is a very considerable assistance.

We have completed the weeding of the ground in which the caragana hedges were planted this spring at an outlay of $5.40. The weather has been favorable for the growth of these hedges and they are already showing considerable advancement.

On motion, the Public Works Committee were given authority to undertake the protection of the trees, planted during the present season, from wind.

On motion, authorizing the construction of a six-foot walk across Main Street opposite the Post office, was carried when put to the vote with Mayor Foster and Councillors Billing and Welch recording their votes as opposed.

On motion, leave was granted to introduce a By-Law to amend By-Law Number 144 of the Town of Wainwright, providing for the location of the pound for the said Town, by resolution of Council instead of by By-Law.

By-Law Number 210 was then introduced.

On motion, By-Law Number 210 was authorized to be read a first time.

By-Law Number 210 was then read a first time.

On motion, permission was granted to read By-Law Number 210 a second time.

By-Law Number 210 was then read a second time.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that By-Law Number 210 be given its third reading at this meeting, that it be given its title as in the original motion and that the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer be authorized to sign the said by-law and attach thereto the Corporate Seal of the Town of Wainwright.

By-Law Number 210 was then read a third time, was finally passed and was duly signed and sealed by the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer.

On motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to take title in the name of the Town of Wainwright for all lots or parcels of land offered for sale in the year 1932 which have not been redeemed or are not so redeemed on or before July 28, 1933, submitting a report thereon at the next regular meeting.

On motion, Councillor Patterson was appointed Deputy Mayor for the next ensuing three months.

On motion, Council authorized the acceptance of a chattel mortgage from Mr. E. H. L. Thomas for $100.00 repayable in monthly payments of $5.00 each, without interest except in case of default in payment and providing for interest at 8 per cent on an overdue payments.

On motion, it was resolved that Mr. E. E. Tory be instructed to place a regulation crossing in front of his filling station at once, said crossing to conform with the governing by-law or otherwise with those crossings already constructed. Mr. Tory to bear all expense of construction.

Camping Days Are Here

Of course, the real camper camps from January until December. In fact he seems to take particular delight in his winter camping.

For most boys, however, the camping season starts now and continues until the late fall.

Camping without proper supervision or proper knowledge may have many things in its favor, but there are also many things to be said against it. In fact it is a dangerous pastime.

These days such camping is not necessary. Almost anywhere one can find a troop of boy scouts, or a group of boys sufficiently interested in the great outdoors to be formed into such a troop. These boys soon learn how to camp wisely. One glance at the tanned faces and healthy bodies of a group of scouts returning from a camping trip should be enough to prove this statement true.

Do you like camping? If so, unite with such an organization and associate with those whose likes are similar to yours. If you are a boy, become a scout. If you are a man, become a scout official and while you are enjoying your camping trips, you will be teaching others to enjoy days and nights in the open.

If learning to swim, to cook outdoors, to render first aid and to secure a knowledge of birds, leaves, stars and everything that has to do with nature is worth while, it is certainly worth while being a boy scout.

GOING EAST?

These days such camping is not necessary. Almost anywhere one can find a troop of boy scouts, or a group of boys sufficiently interested in the great outdoors to be formed into such a troop. These boys soon learn how to camp wisely. One glance at the tanned faces and healthy bodies of a group of scouts returning from a camping trip should be enough to prove this statement true.

Do you like camping? If so, unite with such an organization and associate with those whose likes are similar to yours. If you are a boy, become a scout. If you are a man, become a scout official and while you are enjoying your camping trips, you will be teaching others to enjoy days and nights in the open.

SERMONETTE

The Daredevils

I saw a cartoon recently, showing a little boy shooting putty bullets at a chained elephant. The picture was entitled "The Daredevil." The elephant seemed to be amused. Of course he was, if his intelligence was at all able to grasp the situation. What harm could a pellet of putty do to his tough hide, no matter how hard the little fellow might blow through his toy tube? His amusement probably helped him to forget the chain on his foot, at least for the moment. The elephant looked so big and the boy so little.

The picture reminded me of little men and women who delight in criticism and ridiculing the truly great, especially when they catch them at a disadvantage. What daredevils they think they are. How they are flushed with pride when they can throw a handful of mud at the man who probably carries their burden on his great heart. And if he appears to be friendly and without following, then mockery is on display.

Is the great man hurt by those pesky darts? Indeed he is. Few things in life are harder to bear than to be hurt by those you love, for whom you work and suffer. But the great heart usually rises above the hurt, and then the pain is often tempered by amusement. How funny these little men and their little cavillings are after all.

Let mental dwarfs accuse spirit-filled men of being full of new wine. Let the rabbles say the prophet is out of his mind; let the shallow-prod laugh at the church; they carry on, nevertheless, with the conviction that honesty of soul is inevitable.

More Canadian farmers are learning each year to produce timothy seed instead of timothy hay, whenever the hay crop prospects in the United States and in the United Kingdom are reported as promising, and therefore unpromising from the Canadian point of view.

BERTHA SETTLES THE ARGUMENT

By BETTY BARCLAY

"That's enough bread for this time Henry," remarked Mrs. Powers, setting her lips in a manner which Henry knew only too well.

"Two slices enough after a hard day's work?" That's ridiculous! I never....."

"You may have more potatoes, Henry," granted his wife. "We shall drop the question of bread."

"You've been reading those food stories again," exploded Henry. "One slice of roast beef, two slices of bread, four sliced cabbages served in soup dish, enough lettuce to keep the rabbits overfed for a month..... and well, and nothing to eat for a hungry man. I've lost three pounds since you became one of those faddies."

"Faddists, Henry!"

"All right faddists!"

"Those potatoes are delicious tonight. Better try another spoonful or two. We don't want Bertha to overhear this silly argument."

Bertha, fresh from normal school, broke in at the opportune moment.

"I couldn't help hearing it," Mommie," she remarked. "Wasn't listening, but heard the whole conversation while I took off my coat and rubbers."

"And you agree with me, don't you?" smiled her mother.

"For once in my life I do not," replied Bertha. "Ninety-nine times out of a hundred you have poor Dad beaten in an argument," she continued diplomatically, "but this time you have been reading something in that favorite magazine of yours that was either written by an old-fashioned fogey, or by someone who had fish to fry on behalf of a few favorite foods of hers."

Mrs. Powers gasped, but an unswerving faith in Bertha's knowledge of foods kept her from again voicing her opinion.

Incidentally, Dad Powers took advantage of conditions to pick up daintily his third slice of bread and not quite so daintily deposit it in a shallow pool on his plate.

"Many of the statements made about certain foods today," continued Bertha, "are far from accurate. Of course, many are true and we are learning a great deal about foods that we did not know a few years ago but we must analyze claims carefully and use a little common sense before making radical changes in our diet. Let me tell you a few facts which will give you a new idea about bread."

"Only thirty per cent of the American diet is bread. In England the percentage is fifty, and in France, sixty. Do you notice any overweight among the English or French, or any illness that would indicate that this excess bread was causing trouble?"

"Bread and butter contains 1624 calories to the pound. Boiled rice contains but 510. Boiled eggs contain

Hay or Seed? Which?

For many months past the hay market has been very dull and prices decidedly low. In the more important commercial hay growing areas in Canada there will probably be substantial carryovers, especially in the Maritime provinces and Quebec, owing to failure of export markets. It is known that for the year ending March 31, 1933, only 24,523 tons have been exported as against 150,000 tons in 1930 and about 500,000 tons in one previous year.

The principal export markets for Canadian hay have been in Great Britain and the United States, following partial failure of the hay crops in those countries. It happens that for the last two years both these countries have had good hay crops with the result that their requirement of extra supplies from Canada was very small.

The inability to depend on hay as a cash crop has led many Canadian farmers in recent years to let their timothy fields ripen to harvest for seed. This change from hay to seed production has in most instances been highly encouraging and has been especially profitable when care was exercised in the choice of fields to be cut for seed, and in the handling of the seed crop to ensure of its being free of ox-eye daisy and other troublesome weed seeds. Canada could greatly increase her production of timothy seed before exceeding the amount required for home consumption.

The advisability of harvesting timothy as seed rather than hay will depend in large part upon the prospect of marketing hay in Great Britain and the United States. Information as to hay prospects in both these countries should be available by July 1, which would ordinarily be early enough to allow Canadian farmers to choose as between making their timothy crops into hay or harvesting them as seed.

For about 50 years sheep ranching has occupied an important position in the agricultural development of southern Alberta and southwestern Saskatchewan. It is also one of the agricultural industries of the British Columbia.

785, and oatmeal contains only 280. This should prove that bread supplies one of the most important needs of the body—energy. And it supplies it at a low cost, too."

"In other words," concluded Bertha, spreading her napkin daintily over her lap, "good white bread is an inexpensive, easily-digestible energy food that may be eaten by Dad as it was eaten by his father and his father's father. No one should eat bread alone—and we never do it. We have plenty of milk, good butter, eggs from the orchard and vegetables from the garden."

"So pass the bread, Mommie! Your big daughter needs energy after this lecture. And by the way, Dad, you'll need about one more slice to take care of that gravy."

Mr. Powers beamed affectionately upon his daughter as he followed her suggestion.

Actress Defies Her Death To Quell Jobless Uproar

"Leave Lady Alone, Blast You," Lessor Adjudes Stage Character

HEAR GALS WORTHY

SHOREDITCH.—More than 2,000 unemployed men and women sat in the town hall here the other afternoon and roared their approval of the capitalist versus labor scenes in John Galsworthy's drama, "Strife."

Many of the lusty cheerers, drawn from Shore ditch itself and some of the East London docks, were seeing a play for the first time. It was an audience such as Galsworthy, that passionate supporter of the underdog, would have revelled in if he had lived to watch its delight.

It was Miss Nancy Price and her People's National Theatre company, who are now presenting "Strife" at the Little Theatre, who gave the army of unemployed a novel treat.

Such popular West End stage players as Franklyn Dyal, Miss Joan Maude, Miss Marie Ault and Miss Price herself drove down to Shore ditch already in their makeup, helped to set the town hall platform with furniture and curtains borrowed from the council chamber and then set to in a robust manner to make themselves heard above the din of the excited audience.

Defend's Capitalist's Daughter.

Throughout the morning a double queue, nearly a quarter of a mile in length, had been waiting patiently for free admittance—men in tattered suits and cloth caps and women with babies in their arms. By 3:00 o'clock there was not an empty seat in the hall.

The audience had no hesitation in demonstrating its partiality for the actors playing the roles of the workmen rather than for those appearing as the hard-hearted company directors.

But it was noteworthy that these unemployed playgoers cheered loudest and loudest at those passages in which the workmen's womenfolk derided the folly of strikes.

One man was overcome by his spirit of chivalry when the strikers' leader was giving the chairman's daughter a piece of his mind.

"Leave this lady alone, blast you!" he shouted, his face scarlet with indignation.

During this scene disputes among the audience about the play let to such an uproar at the back of the hall that Miss Price, playing the part of a dying woman, had to take a simply have to keep quiet!" she thundered.

16-Year-Old Youth Talks At Congress

DERBY.—Although only 16, Ronald H. Douglas of Derby recently read a highly technical paper on micro-philately before the philatelic congress in London, being the first minor ever to be so honored by that staid body. Members congratulated him on the excellence of his address.

Ronald has been collecting stamps since he was seven. "Some years ago," he told a reporter, "I started to specialize in Persian stamps and collected a good series of the early lion issues. There are many forgeries and reprints of these issues, and I spent some time learning to detect the genuine original stamps from the others."

THE REGULAR SUPPLY OF BACON

Swine production in Canada is irregular, or, rather, periodic, says the Dominion Animal Husbandman. On the other hand, the consumption and demand of the great bacon market, Great Britain, is regular. For Canadian bacon to maintain its established position on that market, there are two primary essentials in Canadian production, quality and regularity of supply. Raising pigs at all times of the year presents little difficulty in the case of other bacon-producing countries in more favoured latitudes.

Make Perfect Choir

In Only Three Days

HULL.—Sixty people who have never seen each other before will meet on the platform of Victoria station, London, on August 5, on their way to Yugoslavia, to uphold the prestige of British choirs with madrigals, folk songs and sea chanties.

They will not rehearse together till they reach Venice—and then they will sing in their hotel.

They will sail down the Adriatic, rehearsing on the deck of their ship, and when they reach Spalato, three days later, they will be a perfect choir.

The singers have been selected from choral societies from all parts of Britain, and the leader will be Norman Strafford, conductor of the Hull Choral Union.

PATRICIA'S PATTERNS

Black and white and brown and white are popular color combinations, developed in linen, pique, gingham, silk, crepe, silk pique, satin and in solid colors, prints, polka dots, checks, and stripes.

The two combinations are good for any hour of the day and equally smart for sports and evening wear. There are numbers of clever sleeveless linen tennis frocks designed to be worn, if one wishes, with short swapper jackets in the contrasting color. For street, gold-colored brown linen dresses are being worn with swapper coats or jackets in white pique or natural linen.

Cool, comfortable shoes are essential for summer wear. If you have to walk much, as on a shopping tour, wear lower heels and more comfortable shoes, and you will preserve your good disposition. A comfortable and lightweight hat, also, is essential to the summer wardrobe, both as a matter of taste and of practical comfort, for the two are the same.

7876 Ladies' dress. This pattern is designed in sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 38 requires 3 1/4 yards of 69-inch material together with 3/4 yard of contrasting material.

7890 Girls' dress. This pattern is designed in sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 10 requires 2 yards of 35-inch material, with 1 1/2 yard of contrasting material. To trim with piping or with 1 1/2 inch bias requires 2 3/4 yards.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

Life Is Living

Health cranks, like all other cranks, are a nuisance. They lose sight of the idea that we all want to be happy, and they spend their time in making people afraid of this and that. A life that is full of fears, a life that is guided by the principle that you must never do what you want to do because it is bad for you—according to someone—such a life is not a happy life.

Happiness and health can and should go hand in hand. Do not do things because you should do them, but do them because you like to do them. Get out in the fresh air and sunshine because you like it; take baths because you enjoy them; eat fruit because you like the taste of it; drink water because it satisfies your thirst.

There is more real pleasure in living a healthy life than any other kind of life, and that is why you want to live a healthy life. The things the child wants to do are, as a rule, good for him and if our tastes had not early been distorted by faulty training, the same thing might be said of adults.

It is fairly generally agreed that overweight is undesirable; nevertheless a happy and somewhat fat person is a much better citizen than is the crabbed, thin individual whose diet is the constant subject of his conversation. There is no reason why happiness and proper weight cannot go together. What we mean is that we think it is more important to be happy than it is to be the correct weight.
